

'T WAS A CYCLONE.

One of the Most Violent Wind Storms on Record Raged

IN THIS VICINITY THURSDAY

And Caused Considerable Loss to Property, but Only

TWO PERSONS WERE INJURED

And These not Seriously.—The storm was at its worst in the neighborhood of Wheeling Park where over thirty trees were destroyed—Elm Grove Electric Line's wires down between the park and Elm Grove. Everhardt, the juggler, sought the cellar of the Casino in a panic-stricken state.

Yesterday morning, between 11 and 12 o'clock, a genuine cyclone raged for about ten or fifteen minutes in this vicinity, and it is miraculous that there was not greater property loss and loss of life and limb as well. So far as could be learned, however, only two persons were in any way injured, and the property loss is confined almost entirely to the felling of trees, especially at Wheeling Park, where between thirty and forty were destroyed.

Here in the city the storm was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, and in a short time the streets were flooded with water from the hillsides. The sheltered situation in the city was responsible for the practically complete absence of any damage from the wind. On Wood street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth, a large shade tree was felled, and in that part of town many tree branches were torn off and sent flying through space.

The course of the wind was from the southwest, and from Leatherwood out the pike through Echo Point, Wheeling Park, Elm Grove and Triadelphia the wind was very hard and approached a cyclone in violence. At Echo Point several trees were felled, and others were down at points along the pike east of Echo Point, but it was not until Wheeling Park was reached that the full strength of the storm was evidenced.

In the park between thirty and forty trees were destroyed. Some of the smaller ones were torn out by the roots, and larger ones were broken off like pipe stems. On the mound a number of people were picnicking, and here occurred the only accident to person known to have taken place in this vicinity. Mr. Spence and wife, of Martin's Ferry, were standing at the big oven on the mound, heating coffee, when the wind came with terrific force.

Three large pine trees standing near the oven were broken off midway, and the wreckage came down and crushed the little shed that covered the oven like an egg shell. Mr. and Mrs. Spence were standing at one side of the shed, and it is miraculous that they were not killed. The lady was cut severely but not seriously behind the left ear, and Mr. Spence was struck by a falling limb on the leg. Though badly shaken up, they were able to board a car for home soon after the storm abated.

The large pleasure boat on the lake in the park was overturned and sunk. Later in the day it was raised by attaches of the park.

Everhardt, the juggler, one of the stars of the Park Vaudeville company now playing an engagement at the casino, was practicing his art in the big building when the storm broke. A large tree in the rear of the casino was broken off short and made such a terrific crash that Everhardt was panic-stricken and sought refuge in the cellar under the building. Evidently he has been in the west. Superintendent Ernest Krieger, of the park, heard the tree in the rear of the casino fall, and thought that the roof of the building had been lifted, but happily he was mistaken. He had seen the approaching storm, and had had the windows of the casino closed in good time. But for this precaution the roof would have gone beyond doubt.

Charles Kraft lives near the park, and on his ground stood an immense walnut tree, which a timberman offered to buy standing a few days ago for $35. During the storm yesterday the big tree broke off short at the trunk and fell across the tracks of the Wheeling & Elm Grove electric line. After the storm had abated it was found that the tree was rotted through and through, and the timberman is lucky in that he was unable to make his deal with Kraft.

The Wheeling & Elm Grove road was badly handicapped until late in the afternoon by reason of the wind storm's effects. Beginning at the park, where Kraft's tree blocked the line, and continuing out the line nearly to Elm Grove, the line was in very bad shape. Trees were lying across the track, the trolley wire was down nearly half the distance and the situation was very bad indeed. General Manager Wright at once placed a force of men at work, and at 5 o'clock the line was again open. In the meantime transfers were made at the park and beyond.

At Elm Grove a large tree near the Baltimore & Ohio station fell with a crash and tore off part of the cornice of the town lock-up building, in which there were no prisoners at the time. A slight change in the course of the wind and the lock-up building would have been crushed out of form. Many other trees in Elm Grove were felled, and out the pike at Triadelphia and Roney's Point it was stated last night that the storm was very violent.

In the wheat fields across the pike from Wheeling Park were large branches of trees weighing probably from 100 to 200 pounds, which were lying hundreds of yards from the trees from which they were torn by the wind.

INCENDIARY FIRE

This Morning at 1:30 O'clock that was Luckily Discovered in Time and Extinguished With Little Loss. No Clue to the Fire-bug.

About 1:30 o'clock this morning, young men named McKown and Adieberger, passing down Jonathan's ravine, at the northern limit of the city, near Main street, saw smoke issuing in a dense cloud from the rear of the frame building at 74 Main street, occupied as a saloon by Samuel D. Klein.

They gave the alarm at Box 12, which called out the fire department, which arrived on the scene in good time, but, fortunately, after the fire had been extinguished.

Mr. Klein was aroused by the cries of the young men who had discovered the blaze, and hurried from his residence, adjoining the saloon, into his place of business, which was fast filling with smoke. Flames that were beginning to issue into the room from the outside showed conclusively the location of the fire. Throwing open the door, he discovered that the pine door was burning furiously.

Tied to the knob of the door was an old black coat which had been saturated with kerosene. This showed conclusively that the fire was the work of an incendiary. Mr. Klein and neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the blaze with little difficulty, but if it had secured a start of a few minutes it would have furnished employment for the fire department.

Mr. Klein was asked by an Intelligence reporter if he suspected any particular enemy, but he answered in the negative, and did not know of anyone who would desire to injure him in such a manner. Officer Trautwein was on the scene and made an investigation, but had no clue to the fire bug. The police will doubtless make a close investigation to-day.

The loss was not more than $25.

MAKING UP TIME

Was the Cause of a Wreck on the Wheeling & Lake Erie

AT THE TERMINAL JUNCTION

Yesterday Afternoon—Engineer Jack Thurston, of Wheeling Pinned Under his Engine, but Escapes With Only Slight Injuries, his Leg Not Being Crushed as Erroneously Reported—Details of the Accident.

A bad accident occurred near the Terminal junction, above Martin's Ferry, yesterday afternoon. The Steubenville and Wheeling accommodation train of the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, due here at 12:20 p. m., was late and running faster than usual in order to make up time.

The accident was due to a defective switch. The engine ran on to the side track and the passenger cars remained on the main line. After becoming separated in this manner, the coupling between the engine and baggage car broke, causing the engine to jump the track and topple over, then sliding over the river bank.

The baggage and passenger coaches left the rails and the former fell against the fence, and had it not been that the fence was very strong it would not have stopped short of the ground.

In the engine cab were Engineer "Jack" Thurston, of Wheeling, and Fireman Edward Conoway, of Martin's Ferry. Both stood by their engine until the last.

Thurston was caught under the cab of the engine as it went over, fastening him there for about thirty minutes, until the engine could be "jacked" up. Both legs were caught and held, but he was very fortunate in coming out of the wreck with no broken bones, contrary to the statement published in evening papers, and received only a few slight bruises. The fireman escaped without injury.

There were only five passengers on the train and none received injury of any kind, but were badly scared.

The engine, which was No. 4, of the Wheeling Bridge & Terminal Company, was badly wrecked, and it is thought its days of usefulness are over. The front platform of the baggage coach was also badly wrecked. A large number of men were put to work immediately, replacing the cars on the track and repair the track. All travel was stopped on this end of the line for the remainder of the day.

TO BIG INJUN SAND.

Wheeling Natural Gas Company Will Drill the East-of-Town Well.

The Wheeling Natural Gas Company, which recently acquired the oil well on the south bank of Wheeling creek, just beyond Fulton, will drill to the Big Injun sand, 1,300 feet, in the hope that oil or gas in paying quantities may be discovered in this county. The well was sent down to the Cow Run sand, where no oil or gas was found, by a local syndicate, headed by Charles E. Bachman. Drilling is now in progress and the Big Injun will be reached shortly.

THE RAILROADS.

The latest railway consolidation story, inspired by stock jobbers in New York, is that the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe systems are to be united and form a transcontinental line.

"There is no truth in the story," said one of the highest officials of the Santa Fe system. "It was started by men who know nothing about stocks to buy them. Persons really interested in railroads are sorry to see such stories circulated. They usually cause a jump in stock prices for one day, and then comes a decline when those who were deluded by the story realize that it was untrue and rush to sell the stock they bought on the strength of it."

"I do not think the day will ever come when a single railway system will extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans," continued the Santa Fe official. The Vanderbilts could make such a system, but they have, I believe, decided that it would be unwise to do so, for many reasons. It is possible to make transatlantic result would be a decrease in the traffic of all the Vanderbilt lines, rather than an increase, because they formed a system from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

WABASH ADVANCES WAGES.

The Wabash railroad has adopted a new wage schedule for the eastern division, which includes all the lines in Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, that materially advances the compensation of men in the train service. The advance comes voluntarily, the company believing that the improvement in business conditions justifies the advance. Under the new schedule passenger conductors whose runs are from 3,000 to 4,000 miles monthly receive $50; 4,000 to 5,000, $100; 5,000 to 6,000, $105; 6,000 to 6,500, $110; over 6,500, $115. Baggage men get 55 and brakemen 50 per cent of their conductors' pay. Passenger engineers are given $3 35 per 100 miles run, with additional recompense for overtime. Firemen on passenger trains are given $1 90 per 100 miles.

Bank Robber's Sentence.

BOSTON, July 13.—Philip Lamboe, alias George Schey, of Chicago, charged with taking $10,000 from the desk of the paying teller of the Metropolitan Bank, on June 22, pleaded guilty before Judge Richardson, in the superior criminal court to-day, and was sent to state prison for a term of not less than two and one-half years nor more than three and one-half years, with the first day in solitary confinement.

How Grand Duke George Died.

BRESLAU, July 13.—The Schlesische Zeitung declares that the death of the czarowitz, Grand Duke George, who passed away July 10, was due to a bicycling accident. While wheeling over the hilly country about Abbas Tuman, in the Caucasus, the paper adds, a mishap caused him such loss of blood that he died on the spot of the occurrence.

If a medal were awarded for the most perfect temperance medicine prepared for family use it would undoubtedly be given to Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine which is entirely non-alcoholic and non-narcotic, produces actual strength, instead of the simulated strength which results from the use of "whiskey medicines," or nerve numbing narcotics.

The many and remarkable cures resulting from the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" prove the soundness of Dr. Pierce's theory that in these days of haste and hurry the stomach is the common breeding place of disease. These cures also prove the soundness of Dr. Pierce's reasoning that "diseases which originate in the stomach must be cured through the stomach." The "Discovery" is a medicine for the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When the stomach is healthy the blood made in the stomach is healthy, and sufficient in quantity to nourish the nerves and strengthen the system to resist or throw off disease. Nature develops life, sustains life and preserves life by nourishment. Vital failure comes when the body is starved either from lack of food or the inability of the digestive and nutritive organs to extract the nourishment from the food taken into the stomach. "Golden Medical Discovery" takes the obstacles from Nature's way so that she can sustain life by her own methods.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of "Golden Medical Discovery."

DR. HATFIELD.

A Brother of Ellis, Thinks the Shooting Justifiable.

SPECIAL DISPATCH to the Intelligencer. CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 13.—Dr. Elliott B. Hatfield, a brother of Elias Hatfield, the slayer of "Doc" Ellis, has been here for the past two days, attending the examinations given by the state medical board. He has been stopping at the residence of J. W. Makcolm, whose wife is related by blood to the Hatfield family. Dr. Hatfield is a practicing physician at O'Keefe, in Nicholas county, where he was at the time of the Ellis tragedy. He says he has been informed, however, that Elias Hatfield shot Ellis in self defense and thinks his brother was justified.

Dr. Hatfield is a son of "Devil Anse" and a younger brother of "Cap" Hatfield. He is himself very peaceable and is a close student.

A Picnic Accident.

SPECIAL DISPATCH to the Intelligencer.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 13.—Misses Belle Waldeck and Naomi Flowers were seriously hurt this morning at Cheswood Park. They were attending the annual picnic of the M. E. church, and were riding on a merry-go-round, from which they accidentally fell. Miss Flowers received serious, if not fatal spinal injuries, and Miss Waldeck was horribly bruised, she having three ribs broken, as well as receiving other serious injuries.

UNLUCKY PARIS.

Comes Near Meeting With Another Disaster at Falmouth.

FALMOUTH, July 13.—On entering the tidal harbor to-day the steamer Paris, recently aground on the Manacles, under the influence of the tide and wind became temporarily unmanageable. Her stern swung around, and struck the end of a wooden pier upon which a large crowd of people had assembled. The pier shook from end to end, the spectators became panic-stricken and made an ugly rush for escape. Ultimately, control of the ship was regained, and she was safely anchored.

Supt. Alsabet, of the wrecking companies, gave a representative of the Associated Press to-day a contribution of a startling nature to the controversy as to the cause of wrecks on the Manacles, in bringing the Paris to Falmouth she narrowly escaped a big Manacle rock. It was ebb tide, with a northerly wind blowing, which would naturally take the vessel south, but we found her getting nearer and nearer the Manacles, until within 400 yards of them, whereas we ought to have been a mile to the southward. Things looked queer for a time, but we altered our tactics, and cleared the rock.

"From what I have seen during the past few weeks, I am confident some mysterious current draws the vessels towards the rocks. While working on the Paris we warned numberless vessels of the danger they were in."

Says he Didn't Talk.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—Ex-Governor Stone returned from New York to-day and disclaimed many utterances attributed to him in published statements. He also denied that he had talked with any politicians in New York city. "At the Chicago conference of the national committee," he said, "there will be a report of some kind from the committee appointed at the St. Louis conference to investigate the DeVin matter. I think, too, there will be some changes in the sub-committees. These committee may be shaken up and made active. Johnson, of Kansas, would make a fine head for the executive committee."

Sold to B. & O.

NEW YORK, July 13.—It was reported in Wall street to-day that the Lake Erie & Western Railway Company had sold its holdings of Pittsburgh & Western second mortgage bonds to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. The terms were not given out.

BISHOP THOBURN

Talks Entertainingly on the Situation in the Philippines—United States Bound to Assert Authority There.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—Bishop J. M. Thoburn, of the Methodist Episcopal church, who has spent forty years as a missionary, mostly in India, is here with his family, some of whom are in ill-health.

The bishop spent some time in Manila in March last, and was an intelligent observer of events. He says there is no doubt that the outbreak between the Americans and Filipinos was intended by Filipino leaders to include a general massacre in the city of Manila. He cited in proof of this the testimony of two Filipino servants who were summoned to service in the army by Aguinaldo, and who dared not disobey, but who warned their American employers to keep within doors that night, as orders had been given to kill all Europeans found on the streets.

Another evidence was the finding of 5,000 new knives stored in a Catholic church. Only the splendid discipline of the American troops prevented the massacre in Manila.

The bishop was in London when the thrilling news of Dewey's victory came. It was universally understood there, he said, that it meant the permanent possession of the Philippines by the United States. Asked why Dewey did not leave Manila after his victory he said the shortsightedness of the United States government made it impossible. Dewey had not coal enough to carry him to the nearest American coaling station, and he was bound to take Manila in self-defense.

The whole history of the present Philippine situation showed such a natural and logical and even inevitable course of events that the United States is bound to assert its authority there. Anarchy and assassination, he declares, would follow the withdrawal of the American forces. The only trouble lies in the Luzon island. All the other islands are peaceful. The bishop thinks the proper policy of the United States is to enlist the men of the other islands, who are the natural enemies of the inhabitants of Luzon, to fight Aguinaldo's army. Offered by Americans they would quickly dispose of the few men that Aguinaldo can muster.

Viewing the situation in the Far East from the standpoint of a missionary of forty years in that part of the world, the bishop was impressed with the fact that it was the duty of the United States, forced upon it by the circumstances of the Spanish war, to hold the Philippines and preserve order and extend civilized government in that vast region. Moreover in the interest of morality and Christianity, he hoped for the dissolution of the Chinese empire, which he characterized as the most heinous government on the earth. In that event Russia should have a portion, giving it an available Pacific port. England, though favoring the integrity of the Chinese empire, already has in mind the valley of the Yangtze River as its share. The United States should have its portion on the coast opposite the Philippines.

IRRESPONSIBLE STRIKES

To be Prevented So Far as Longshoremen Are Concerned.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 13.—At today's session of the International Longshoremen's Association, President McMahon, of the local grain shovellers' union, objected to the seating of Timothy P. Donovan, the dock inspector appointed by Bishop Quigley as one of the conditions on which the recent dock strike was settled, claiming that he was not an actual freight handler. It developed that Donovan was a member of the freight handlers' union, and was last night elected a delegate in place of President Michael Joyce, a saloon-keeper, who by his calling is debarred from sitting. The committee on credentials took the matter under consideration, and later reported to the convention unanimously against seating Donovan. The report was adopted without debate.

A resolution was offered and referred, providing that no local shall order a strike without first submitting its grievance to the executive council, and receiving authority to order a strike. The resolution is designed to prevent a recurrence of such strikes as the Buffalo freight handlers, which was unauthorized.

President Keefe, in his annual address, discussed the evils of irresponsible and premature strikes. The local, he said, should give notice to the executive council that they anticipate increasing their scale of wages or demanding a change of conditions or of any desire to violate any contract or agreement. He advised that the executive council be enlarged, and that the best men in the organization be chosen as committee-men. Resolutions covering both suggestions made by Mr. Keefe were subsequently introduced and referred.

MOLINEUX'S CASE

Again Before the Grand Jury—Charged With Murder.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The case of Roland B. Molineux, charged with the murder of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams, was presented to-day to the grand jury of New York county, despite the fact that District Attorney Gardner and his assistant, James W. Osborne, who have charge of the case, declared that it would not be formally submitted before to-morrow.

It is understood that the grand jury decided not to wait to suit the convenience of the district attorney's office, and summoned the witnesses on disputed handwriting engaged both on the side of the prosecution and the defense. Experts David N. Carvalho, for the defense, and William J. Kinslow, for the prosecution, were summoned before the jury.

The letter signed "H. C. Barnett," sent from the private letter box in West Forty-second street and the letters signed "H. C. Barnett," sent from the private box at No. 1640 Broadway, and the exhibits bearing the alleged signature of Roland B. Molineux sent from Molineux's office, in Newark, N. J., were submitted to the experts on chirography.

The proceedings were secret, and will be continued to-morrow.
